Senior Class History

This story, a story of a journey, began in the fall of 1944. The travelers, twenty-seven in number, started this journey to graduation with a gleam in their eyes and faith in their hearts. At that time we didn't think of the hard work we had to accomplish before we received our reward, the Diplomas. Each and every traveler had the grit and determination to travel that road even though some fell by the wayside.

The first mile of the journey began as we entered our freshman year. It was hard at first, but soon everyone fell in step and was well on his way. As we crossed the first mile some could not keep the pace and went astray.

The second mile, being our sophomore year, was highlighted because we knew we were really advancing. On the road, we met a new traveler, Mary Annie Barnhardt, who soon fell into the stride with us.

At the beginning of our junior year we continued the journey with more strength and vigor than ever before, because we knew the goal was just around the curve. Charles Berg, a newcomer to our caravan, gave us a number of twenty. We decided that by electing guides for our caravan, we could make greater progress. The guides chosen were: John Wooten, President; Barbara Paris, Vice-President; Henry Safley, Secretary; Evelyn Campbell, Treasurer. Under the able supervision of Mrs. Corbett Bledsoe, we presented a junior play and conducted drives, including the selling of Christmas Cards, Greeting Cards and Magazines. With this hard earned money we entertained the Seniors of '47 at a formal banquet at the Yadkin Hotel. This was the first year that none of our fellow travelers failed to make the grade.

We began the last lap of our journey in the fall of 1947, which was to be a very eventful year for us. With the end in view we strived much harder, knowing that this was our last chance. Our leaders chosen were: Jack Cauble, President; Sallie Wilhelm, Vice-President; Evelyn Campbell, Secretary; Henry Safley, Treasurer. During that year we set up a standard school ring and successfully published the second school Annual. One of our fellow travelers, Jean Beeker, was crowned as Miss Cleveland School of 1947.

We are now at the end of the trail and soon the long hard struggle will be forgotten. Our pleasures of achievement will long be remembered. And as we go to face the future, our hearts are filled with gratitude to our Parents, Teachers, and Friends, whose guidance and encouragement have made this achievement possible.

HENRY W. SAFLEY,
Historian

Senior Class Prophecy

Ten long years from now I am resting my weary bones in an easy chair and catching up on the news. I am suddenly aware that it concerns many people I know, in fact, some of my former classmates. Right on the front page is an article about an outstanding operation performed by Surgeon Avin Leckie at Johns Hopkins. You know Mary Barnhardt is Superintendent of Nurses at the same hospital. Here's a picture of Doris Padgett smiling happily because she is new Head Nurse at the Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem.

Looking further I see that Viola Goodson's brilliant salesmanship has carried her to the top, for she now owns and operates a large department store in Greensboro.

Jean Kesler's ability in business has gone right on with her. She is Business Manager of the New York Times.

I see that Carnegie Hall is boasting another appearance of The Great Pianist Henry Safley.

One lad of '48 has gone far in the agricultural field. Clyde Wilhelm is owner of one of the best groups of farms in North Carolina.

I see here where Charles Berg's basketball and football training helped him get ahead. Today he is recognized as the best coach in the South and is Athletic Director at the University.

The Home Demonstration Club will be held at the home of Barbara Paris with Sallie Wilhelm acting as president and Jean Beeker giving a demonstration on new ideas in Dressmaking.

H'm, look at this article, F. B. I. Agent Geneva Beaver has cracked another case for the Government.

Herbert Campbell's slow speech does not prevent his success as one of Uncle Sam's best tax collectors.

Turning the page I see that James Lyerly has a big transfer truck on route to New York.

In order that we may always be able to go places, I see Jack Cauble is head of the Towel City Retreading Company in Kannapolis.

I see Margaret Graham has been elected as Manager of the Southern Bell Telephone Company in Charlotte.

Bruce Owens is being kept busy as director of The Electrical Engineering Department at North Carolina State College.

John Wooten's Army life with his easy-going disposition may some-day, before long, put him in the White House as President of the United States.

Myself a "Soda Jerker" on Times Square in New York.

I'd better lay my paper aside now as it is time to hear Evelyn Campbell announcing my favorite radio program.

Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1948

We, the Senior Class of Cleveland High School, being of sound mind and good memory, do hereby make, declare, and publish this to be our Last Will and Testament.

First: To the faculty we leave all our books and thanks for guiding us so faithfully these many years.

Second: We will and bequeath to our Parents all our love for their patience and understanding in helping us to go through school.

Third. We will and bequeath to the Junior Class our notes and good luck, because there will be room for some more.

Fourth: I, Henry Safley, will my musical ability to "Cotton" Barringer.

Fifth: I, Avin Leckie, hereby will my wittiness to Nancy Cloer.

Sixth: I, Bruce Owens, do will my position on the football team to Harry Albright.

Seventh: I, Mary Barnhardt, will and bequeath my working ability to Kenneth Swicegood.

Eighth: I, Evelyn Campbell, will my laughing ability to Joyce Ann Barber.

Ninth: I, Sallie Wilhelm, will and bequeath my athletic ability to Doris Wood.

Tenth: I, Jean Beeker, do will my chemistry book to anybody that wants it.

Eleventh: I, Barbara Paris, will and bequeath my popularity to Gilbert Archie.

Twelfth: I, Charles Berg, do will my way with the women to Charlie Waller.

Thirteenth: I, Herbert Campbell, will my baseball ability to Keith Foster.

Fourteenth: I, John Wooten, will my bashfulness to "Foot" Fleming.

Fifteenth: I, Viola Goodson, will my quietness to Jimmy Bame.

Sixteenth: I, Geneva Beaver, will my love of dancing to Betty Smith.

Seventeenth: I, Jack Cauble, will my basketball position to Donald Lyerly.

Eighteenth: I, Willie Kate McCubbins, will my smiles and friendliness to Harold Barringer.

Nineteenth: I, Clyde Wilhelm, will my laziness to Evelyn Pinkston.

Twentieth: I, Doris Padgett, will my place as program chairman in Beta Club to any deserving student.

Twenty-first: I, Jean Kesler, will my typewriter to Eugene Berg.

Twenty-second: I, Margaret Graham, will my comb and mirror to Bonnie Campbell.

In witness whereof, I, Bruce Owens, having been authorized, directed, and delegated by the Senior Class to bring together its Last Will and Testament and with its help do hereunto set my hand and affix my seal, on this, the seventh day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty-eight.

Our Golden Days

The sun came up with golden gleam;
A dove came flying by;
The doors were opened once again—
The doors of Cleveland High.

We heard the school bell chiming,
As we came 'cross the dale;
It said to us — these are good days,
God grant you use them well.

We seniors gathered once again,
The halls rang with our cheers,
We had good times in our last days—
The days at Cleveland High.

One day the dove came flying back
To call us softly from the sky;
We knew the end was drawing near,
And we had soon to say good-bye.

Just then the day was dawning,
But the sun slid down so bold
Into a pool of golden sky
Like ruby set in gold.

Together we walked through the open gates
To wait the coming day;
We placed our lives in God's strong hand,
For He is Truth, The Light, The Way.
